Products, Software, Solutions and Services

Lexmark has long worked to combat counterfeit sales of supplies, actively checking domestic and global markets for products that don't meet the criteria for genuine Lexmark products. Through an innovative new mobile app, Lexmark is safeguarding its brand by protecting end users and channel partners from sub-standard cartridges.

• Lexmark introduced the Lexmark ID app, allowing customers to verify Lexmark branded inkjet cartridges on the spot using only their smartphone or tablet. The app is designed to identify the acts of counterfeiters who illegally reuse and refill Lexmark cartridges and package and sell them as original Lexmark goods.
